The time, according to the official scorer, was 1:141/2, and other watches and Heydon's single, which brought two made it the same. The score was 3 to 0 in Kokomo's favor. Umpire Quinn permitted no delays, and promptly sent all kickers to the bench. BATTING AVERAGES.

Hoosiers Are Batting Well on the Western Trip.

Considering that the Indianapolis players are now on their first Western trip, the batting averages given below are exceptionally good, but a very slight decrease being noticed in some of the men since they left home, while in others there has been an increase. Magoon batted well last week but was forced to take second place in the list, leaving Hartsel again perched on top. Flynn has improved wonderfully since he left home. The Indianapolis team has made a won derful showing so far on the first Western trip. The Hoosiers took four straight from the Kansas City aggregation, and then went to Minneapolis, where they split even with the Millers. The series at Milwauke was opened yesterday and the Indians took the urst game. If they take one more of the three yet to be played and then split even at Chicago everybody will be delighted, but, according to the showing made at Kansas City, they should have the best of the seven games yet to come before returning home.

AMERICAN ATHLETIC UNION.

U. of M. Won Its Meet by a Scratch-Admiral Dewey on the Grounds.

DETROIT, Mich, June 9 .- The University of Michigan won the track and field meet of the Central Association of the Amateur Athletic Union on the Detroit Athletic Club Field this afternoon by the narrow margin of six points. Had a literal interpretation of the rules been insisted upon the victory would have gone to the athletes in blue and white, representing the Milwaukee Athletic Club. The men in the relay had been instructed to hold their marks until touched by the man they were relieving. Nuefer, who ran the second quarter for Michigan, left his mark and took a step backward as his man approached. Peter F Murphy, of Milwaukee, protested the race because of this, and Referee Liginger disqualified the Michigan team. Captain Mc-Lean protested so vigorously, and, as Michigan had won by 150 yards, Mr. Murphy finally withdrew his protest, and Referee Two-base hits-Slagle, Delehanty, Mc- Liginger thereupon reversed his former decision. Broadway Stakes at Gravesend Captured by Sarmatian, an Outsider -Close of Newport Races.

NEW YORK, June 9 .- Between 8,000 and

0.000 persons went down to the Gravesend

race track to-day to see one of the best cards of the season run off. The weather was perfect, but the track was heavy from the I. U. man had been playing steadily last night's rain. There were three fixtures since 10:30 o'clock. Adams, of Hanover, down for decision—the Great American stakes for two-year-olds, of $12,500 value, the Broadway stakes and the Grand National steeplechase. Prince Charles, William C. Whitney's good two-year-old, won the first named. To a fair start Prince Pepper went out to make the running with The Puritan and Bellario his nearest attendants. At the far turn Prince Charles moved up into fourth place. Bonnibert, too, looked dangerous. Prince Pepper led into the stretch by a neck with Bellario second and Puritan third. When straightened out, Prince Charles challenged and in a hard drive all through the last sixteenth won by a head from Prince Pepper. The Broadway stakes went to the outsider, Sarmatian. Missionary and Brigadier were equal favorites at 5 to 2, but neither was in the money. Sarmatian made all the running and although Brigadier showed in front for a few strides as they rounded into the stretch, Sarmatian came away when straightened out and won easily by three lengths from Hindus. The Grand National steeplechase furnished a treat to lovers of cross-country sport. Philadae won ridden cut by a length from Charagrace, which only beat The Bachelor a neck for the place. HIGH SCHOOL WON FROM MANUAL

TRAINING SCHOOL TEAM.

Game Was Exciting, as the Rooters Were Noisy-I. H. S. Led from the Start and Were Never Caught.

The Indianapolis High School baseball team wiped out an old grudge against the Manual Training School yesterday afternoon at Washington Park, by winning the for the twenty-eighth annual meeting of annual contest by a score of 7 to 4 in a bling over with confidence, for they have recently bested their rivals in other sport-In the $16,000 Kentucky Futurity for ing events, and yesterday they went on the three-year-olds, forty-seven colts made the field fully expecting to chalk up another June payment, twenty-four less than in victory to their credit. But their colors 1899. -pier names his filly Immaculate, by the bright crimson and white, were given such a trailing in the dust by the blue and white followers of the high school that Wilton, 2:111/2; J. The followers of the high school team occupied the north end of the grand stand, while the small crowd that went to the park to root for the training school team were on the opposite side. From the first Bingen, 2:064; Nancy Hanks, 2:04; T. H. inning the high school boys and girls drowned out the feeble applause uttered by the training school crowd. The I. H. S. enthusiasts had trumpets, megaphones and subscriptions, including David Cahill, J. C. other things with which to make noise, and they used them frequently, as their team started off in the lead and maintained the position throughout the game. The Manual Training School team made a spurt in the last inning in an endeavor to wipe out the lead of their opponents, and at that time the rooters displayed banners and lung power that had been in cold storage during the early innings. The high school team made a neat appearance on the field, while the training school team-no two being dressed alikeresembled a crowd of misfits, some being clad in football uniforms, others in Mephis tophiles' slippers, and one of the players went on the field with no headgear. While the errors credited to the two teams show nearly the same total in the score, the playing of the high school team was far far superior to that of their opponents. The passed balls charged to T. Quinn were costly and detrimental to the chances of the training school team winning. Gibbs at second, Duckwall in left, Conpor and Collins won round after round of applause from the fair rooters by their work in the field, with Sielken helped matters with his stick work. Diddle and Mc-July 24-2:14 trot, three in five, $1,500; 2:06 Dermott led the batting for the training school aggregation. Walton, a young man with such a dusky complexion that he resembled a native African, was on the slab for the training school team for eight innings. His arm began giving out, and after the eighth inning the manager of the July 27-2:18 trot, three in five, $1,500: 2:04 South Side school sent Gilchrist to the slab pace, two in three, $1,500; 2:13 pace, three in | hoping to change the luck. Collins pitched a good game for the I. H. S., preventing the opposing batters from hitting safely when men were on bases.

> The high school team led off in the first inning with a brace of runs. Gibbs drew a pass and White's single sent him to second He attempted to reach third, but a beautiful throw by Diddle caught him befere he reached the bag. A passed ball allowed White to proceed to second. Barry struck out, and Connor's hit scored White. Connor went to second on the throw to the plate to catch White, and a passed ball sent him to third. Another passed ball allowed him to cross the rubber. The first time the training school boys tried their hand at the bat they were retired in easy style, two of the men being struck out. The high school boys were blanked in the second, but the training school crowd chalked up one. McDermott started with a three-base drive and scored when Connor tried to catch him off third. I. H. S. made a trio in the third. White flew out and Barry hit safely. Connor in the 2:20 list, and was also the dam of eight trotters and three pacers in standard drove one to Hotz, who could not handle the ball, allowing both men to reach their bases. Holdson hit to Walton, who threw Barry out at third. Collins also hit to Walton, and instead of the pitcher throwing to first, as it was the third out, he tried ot catch Connor at third and threw over McDermott's head. That started the trouble and Connor scored. Sielken's hit sent Holdson and Collins across the plate. Duckwall was struck out. In the sixth high school added two. Sielken flew out and Duckwall walked, reaching second on a passed ball Parker's hit scored him. Parker stole second, and on Cooper's error he scored. That was the last time high school tallied. Hotz's double, a passed ball and an out sent one run across the plate for the train-16 up for Indianapolis. A large crowd was ing school team in the seventh. In the eighth Diddle's triple, Hotz's error, Sweeney's single and an out gave them two more. The M. T. H. S. boys tried to make a rally in the ninth, and got two men on bases, but the side was retired without them scoring. The score:
